

5 Reasons Human Resources Needs Citrix Workspace

Become a workplace hero by creating great employee experiences that simplify how work gets done, cut through the noise, and help drive the bottom line

How does Citrix Workspace help?

Citrix Workspace empowers people to work better anytime, anywhere, without distractions. It seamlessly integrates with your existing systems so you can focus on driving digital transformation

- 1 Build your employer value proposition
Citrix Workspace creates great employee experiences by unifying, organizing, and guiding work. Engaged employees are almost nine times as likely to recommend the company to potential new hires, and organizations that invest in employee experience are listed on Glassdoor's (11.5x) and LinkedIn's (4.4x) list of top workplaces more often.
- 2 Optimize onboarding for new employees
Citrix Workspace optimizes the onboarding experience by giving new employees a single place to get work done. They'll receive one log in, giving them access to all of the business applications, team folder files, and communications tools they'll need to be successful and hit the ground running.
- 3 Increase employee engagement
Engaged and satisfied employees are more effective, choose to remain with their employer longer, and deliver better service to your customers. Citrix Workspace organizes and guides work, increasing employee engagement by letting employees focus on meaningful activities that make impact.
- 4 Enhance employee productivity
Citrix Workspace creates harmony by having all business applications in one place. Your team will appreciate cutting down on context switching, instead having a unified view and a consistent user experience across all of their devices. By reducing the number of interruptions and need to switch their focus, employees can continue driving value and help grow the business.
- 5 Secure employee data
HR has access to data sets that includes employees' personally identifiable information. The risks and penalties associated with losing or leaking that data can be severe. Citrix Workspace adds a layer of security to PII, helping HR become an important defender of organizational data.